Writing Services

Are you a student working on an article, dissertation or master's thesis? Do you want more structure for your writing process and feedback on your writing this spring? Are you looking for a friendly, small-group setting to workshop your works in progress? We want you for our GC Writing Services: Peer Review Writing Groups! We'll meet to share writing, provide feedback, offer mutual support, exchange tips on process, and help each other meet accountability goals. Students will share work and feedback on a rotating basis. Peer critique helps students develop methods to assess and revise their own work outside of the workshop.

You are eligible if you are currently working on an article, dissertation materials (prospectuses, chapters), or a master's thesis.

Logistics:

- Running
  - Tuesdays, April 2 - May 14, 6-8pm OR
  - Wednesdays, March 20 - May 1, 3-5pm (Participants attend either all Tuesday sessions OR all Wednesday sessions.)
- Meetings will be held in room 3312.
- We ask that each participant read and respond substantively (~2 pages) to about 20 pages of peer writing each week, and contribute 10 pages for peer critique every third week. Each participant should also plan to be present at each meeting.
- Email writinghelp@gc.cuny.edu with questions
- Sign up here.

Exploring Career Paths: How to Find Your Professional Fit (STEM)

Date/Time

Wednesday, May 1, 2019

4:00 pm - 5:30 pm

Location

CUNY Graduate Center, room 7208

About the Workshop

What's the best way to explore and research different career paths? What career options exist beyond academia? This workshop introduces the employment landscape and how you might find your fit therein. We'll talk about what other doctoral and masters students have gone on to do, and whether making similar choices would be right for you. Participants will have the opportunity to assess their values, skills, and interests, and discuss how these apply to various career paths. We will also discuss other career assessment tools and resources available to GC students and alumni.

***Note that this workshop is for STEM students. There was a similar workshop for Humanities and Social Science students in March.

Please RSVP

Please fill out our event registration form to let us know you're coming.

Hello from York College!

We are looking for an adjunct for this Summer July 1-25 for the morning session 9-12 Monday-Thursday to teach Intro to American to York Early College Academy (YECA) high school students. They are advanced high school students who are taking Intro to American for college credit. (The class is taught like any other section of college level Intro to American.) The books will be ordered for you and there are sample syllabi available.

The YECA sections tend to run small, probably around 15-25; sometimes fewer. I will be able to confirm class sizes later in the semester. The students are usually very motivated.

I was hoping you would be willing to circulate this call to your colleagues and any Ph.D. candidates. I would ask for a brief cover letter with the names of two references and a cv. Please send the information to me at tharper@york.cuny.edu
Thank you!

Artist Program Assistant

Engagement Manager ACLS Mission and Overview Formed a century ago, the American Council of Learned Societies (ACLS) is a nonprofit federation of 75 scholarly organizations. As the leading representative of American scholarship in the humanities and related social sciences, ACLS holds a core belief that knowledge is a public good. As such, ACLS strives to promote the circulation of humanistic knowledge throughout society, in addition to stewarding and representing its member organizations. ACLS employs its $140 million endowment and $35 million annual operating budget to support scholarship in the humanities and social sciences and to advocate for the centrality of the humanities in the modern world. Overview of Department The Office of Fellowship and Public Programs, one of two program divisions at ACLS, develops, administers, and evaluates innovative programs that support humanities research and broaden the relationship of humanities scholarship to society. These efforts include managing 12 different fellowships and grants programs that fund research and public engagement by humanities scholars—college and university faculty and graduate students, as well as independent scholars. Our portfolio of programs is dynamic and evolves regularly in response to changes in the humanities and higher education more generally. Fellows and grantees in these programs are selected through a rigorous peer review process, which draws on the expertise of over 525 scholars in all fields of the humanities and humanistic social sciences. In 2019, the fellowship and public programs division will make over 275 awards totaling nearly $22 million, selected from approximately 3,100 applications. Job Summary ACLS seeks an Engagement Manager to coordinate and enhance our efforts to connect, convene, and learn from our member societies, higher education partners, and community of fellows, with a particular focus on issues related to PhD career pathways and the public dimensions of humanities scholarship. Reporting to ACLS's Director of Public Programs, the Engagement Manager will lead data gathering and survey efforts among key ACLS constituencies and propose, plan, and implement strategic outreach and engagement initiatives based on the results of this research. It is expected that approximately three quarters of the Engagement Manager's portfolio will consist of outreach and engagement activities across ACLS constituencies. One quarter will involve research, analysis, and writing. The manager will have the opportunity to travel several times per year to attend relevant conferences (e.g., National Humanities Conference, annual meetings of ACLS member societies) and convene ACLS fellows. The manager will collaborate with staff across the organization, including the office of the president, to identify opportunities for engaging fellows in periodic events, including the ACLS Annual Meeting. This new position has an initial term of three years, with the possibility of longer-term renewal thereafter. Please check GC Connect for more details about this job. Log-in https://bit.ly/2JQXJPF.

Hello!

I am reaching out to inform you about volunteer opportunities with the 2019 World Science Festival (worldsciencefestival.com). This year, the Festival returns to New York City from May 22 - June 2, 2019 with over 70 events and performances!

The World Science Festival gathers great minds in science and the arts to produce live and digital content that allows a broad general audience to engage with scientific discoveries. Through interactive explorations, musical performances, intimate salons, and major outdoor experiences, the Festival takes science out of the laboratory and into the streets, parks, museums, and premier performing arts venues of New York City.

Volunteers are an essential part of the Festival's success and I think you may know some excellent candidates!

Volunteer application for the 2019 World Science Festival (app.initialize.com) is now open!

World Science Festival volunteer benefits include:

- A welcome orientation, with food and networking opportunities
- A World Science Festival Volunteer t-shirt
- Involvement in our amazing line-up of science lectures, demonstrations and events
- Free admission to select NSF programs (based on availability)
- A wrap-party with pizza, prizes, and appearances from NSF staff
- An official Certificate of Completion of volunteer services (upon request)

Please find our 2019 Festival Volunteer poster attached, and feel free to distribute to friends, family and local community groups. If you have any questions, please feel free to reach out by emailing volunteers@worldsciencefestival.com. We look forward to the potential of having you as a part of the WSF team.

Thank you in advance for helping us to spread the word and we hope to see you at this year's Festival!

Sincerely,
WSF Volunteer Services Team

Webinars and Digital Content

On Thursday, April 18th, Finding Your Side Hustle: Redefining the PhD (nyas.org) will be the first in a series of lectures featuring young scientists who have pursued a side project based on their passions—while staying on track to get their PhD. Learn how to apply your scientific expertise to other interests, and reshape your graduate experience in fulfilling new ways. This lecture is available to both Webinar and in-person attendees.
Can't make it here in person? Academy eBriefings offer Members the opportunity to view lectures and symposia virtually, and at their own convenience. Log in to check out these recently published eB's:
